Connecting with the Wisdom of Mother Earth for Integrating Personal, Planetary and Galactic Transformation a two-day workshop with Ronald Holt

Bucharest, Romania - October 28-29, 2017
Contact: Camelia Cioba at camelia.cioba@yahoo.co.uk

in Bucharest (Venue to Be Announced)

This workshop is a synthesis of Ron's 30+ years of research and development of methods to experience and interact with Earth energies in ways that assist personal and spiritual transformation at deep fundamental levels, with the understanding that this also engages transformation at the planetary, galactic and Universal levels of consciousness.

Similar to electrical power outlets commonly found in our homes, Mother Earth utilizes her energetic networks that have been called ley lines, consciousness grids or power spots. These are laid out in vast comprehensive networks all across the Earth and are mirrored in our own energetic networks in the body. These facilities have long been recognized and respected by the ancients and indigenous cultures all over the world for their inherent ability to be metaphorical "charging and communication stations" that allow access into a kind of "cosmic internet" that lights up and awakens our own inner body networks. Mother Earth's sacred ley lines, power spots and consciousness grids enable much easier connection and communication with beings such as:

- 1) Our internal guides, higher consciousness and higher selves
- 2) Beings of the angel and arcangel realms
- 3) Traditionally recognized gods and goddesses
- 4) Buddhic, Christic and master level beings
- 5) Consciousness of Mother Earth herself
- 6) Representatives of Mother Earth's many consciousness realms such as elementals, fairies, elves etc.
- 7) Kachinas, star lineages
- 8) Solar, galactic and universal consciousness beings

Cathedral Rock - Sedona, Arizona

Understanding Mother Earth's capability to assist us on these many consciousness levels helps inspire conscious transformation and holistic integration for those sincerely seeking communion and reintegration. This is why these areas have long been designated as sacred areas in so many cultures for thousands of years all across the globe. This is why many sacred power spots have been adorned (in many cases) with temples and man made structures built from profound gratitude and commonly marked for all generations to continue to be used as places of supreme respect and integrative healing.

Mother Earth and her power spots also assist us dramatically in understanding and navigating the polarity and duality dramas that are so present in the world today. Mother Earth and her guidance at power spots inspire us to revolutionize our paradigm so that we can finally be free of the repeating dramas and challenges in our lives that really come from our own making. The dualities within us actually mire us in separation consciousness and limit our access into solar, galactic and universal consciousness. At Mother Earth's power spots we have a safe haven and a divine mirror in which to see ourselves. It is here that we can integrate polarity and create the alchemy necessary for radical consciousness evolution.

The Workshop

Ron will share some inspiring tales of his encounters with power spots around the world and share what he has learned and discovered from Mother Earth in addition to the many beings of light commonly experienced at these sacred indigenous spaces. These stories help serve as an examples for guiding inward transformation available at power spots.

Lectures, experiential exercises, guided meditations and self-introspection exercises will be shared in module form with the group to better facilitate a groundbreaking foundation that will help to revolutionize the inner landscape for integration of our dualities that create the consciousness alchemy.

In this workshop setting, within reach of an accessible local sacred power spot, participants will learn a number of techniques to engage the pineal and the heart. They will how to sense power spot energy using the pineal and the heart as well. In the safety of the space held by Ron, participants will go deeply within themselves to better understand their inner duality, so that unresolved blockages can be healed. The group will spend time on the grounds of the local power spot to engage the time-honored energy fabrics woven by the alchemists of the past. Much of this work is experiential and is the product of the alchemy of the group with the land. The best of it can only be known by actual participation in the unique energies of this workshop.

Bring your openness to the mystery and come share with Ron and the rest of the group that is gathering to see what the Earth chooses to reveal to you at this auspicious time.
