Surrendering to the Quantum Energy of the Heart through Quantum Navigation Meditation

Ongoing Practice and Mentorship with Ronald Holt

Within us lies a vast and layered landscape that is built from our experiences, challenges, and belief systems that we have carefully constructed as physical beings. The landscape contains many objects that protect the dream so that we do not awaken. This landscape is like a map that we can use to lead us back "home" within ourselves. But very few of us actually go inward to engage this landscape, learn about it, and use it to heal ourselves so we can experience physical reality differently - mostly because we don't know this inner map exists or how to work with it. Once we know how to navigate the map, we can follow it into the quantum, into the heart, and back Home again.

In Ronald Holt's personal inner work of over 30 years, he has learned to navigate this map, meet and interact with the archetypal guardians and teachers of this inner realm, and, using the quantum energy of the heart, experience the nondual abiding consciousness of all creation. In these last 3 decades, he has shared this work with very few - mostly working one-on-one. He has recently begun to offer it to groups.

This is a semi-regular, unique training offered by Ronald Holt is based on his Quantum Navigation workshop. It is not necessary to have attended the workshop. This evening will include a lecture consciously channeled by Ron and a meditation experience. Group participation by the audience is important, because the group weaves a tapestry of understanding of this most sacred work.
